This chart highlights the company's positioning relative to the industry average for each Key Issue that contributed to its ESG Rating as of November 19, 2025.

Last ESG Rating action

Rating action date: October 16, 2025

Asia Cement has been upgraded to 'A' from 'BBB'.

Cement manufacturing is typically toxic and carbon emissions intensive, per our model. Asia Cement leads industry peers in emission mitigation initiatives. New evidence indicates it conducts environmental audits across all its operations and engages with suppliers to reduce potential toxic emissions in the supply chain. As part of its carbon emissions reduction initiatives, the company is working on replacing conventional energy with renewable energy. These factors primarily drive the upgrade.

- Asia Cement aims to reduce its GHG emissions intensity by 22.9% by FY 2030 (vs. 2019). Its Scope 1+2 GHG emission intensities, at 1,129 tCO2e/USD million sales as of FY 2024, continued to be lower than the industry average of 4,354 as of January 2025.
- As part of its community relations management, Asia Cement has disclosed its commitment to refrain from operating in protected areas and has regular community engagement initiatives to resolve potential disputes.
- Based on our model, Asia Cement's business ethics practices are average compared with those of global peers. Though it has board-level ethics oversight, we found no disclosure on the scope of audits of ethical standards. The company trails global peers in corporate governance, per our model. The board continues to be potentially entrenched, with 5 (of 15) members serving the company for over 15 years, which may impact their independence in board deliberations. Furthermore, Asia Cement remains involved in a series of cross-shareholdings with other companies.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The risk to minority shareholders arising from related party transactions is a function of the nature of the related party, the relative size of the transaction and the pricing of the transaction. The board, and in particular the independent directors or audit committee, play a key role in the protection of minority shareholders' interests, and monitoring and managing potential conflicts of interest of management, board members and shareholders.

BOARD EFFECTIVENESS

There appears to be director overboarding on this board, with at least one non-executive director sitting on too many boards. MSCI ESG Research considers a non-executive director to be overboarded when they sit on three or more additional boards (i.e. four total boards, including the rated company) in MSCI ESG Research's corporate governance research universe. For CEOs and other executive directors, we have established a limit of two additional boards (i.e. three boards including the rated company).

BOARD SKILLS & DIVERSITY

MSCI ESG Research has flagged the board as potentially entrenched due to a number of long-serving directors. An entrenched board may be detrimental to sustainable shareholder interests during periods of extended underperformance and we do see the potential for such entrenchment at this firm due to a significant number of long-serving directors.Additional factors, e.g. the presence of a controlling shareholder, all board members do not stand for annual re-elections and the lack of an independent chairman together with the high number of long-tenured directors, may raise some investors' concerns about the board's ability to provide an effective counterbalance to management. We note that 29% in Taiwan have been flagged for having an entrenched board.

We have flagged the Asia Cement board for gender diversity concerns.

A board with one or more active CEOs and overboarded directors may not be able to provide effective oversight of management. Their other roles may limit the time and attention required to fulfill their fiduciary duties. The company's 'Below Average' rating for pay may be an indication of a management-friendly board because of the presence of one or more active CEO's on the board, a concern magnified by the apparent entrenchment of the board.

5%+ shareholders - Aggregate Voting Power	5.4%
Insider Voting Power	32%

Asia Cement is a controlled company, where a single shareholder or shareholder block holds 30% or more of the voting shares or has effective control of the board. The controlling shareholder controls 31.86% of the voting power. We have identified this company as a 'family firm', where one or more families control the voting shares and are typically represented on the board. When assessing family firms, we consider the extent to which the family makes decisions that are in the best interests of non-family shareholders. At Asia Cement, there may be governance risks associated with related party transactions among the controlling founders/family. The company does not have a special capital structure, thus one vote right is afforded per common share. This principle of 'one share one vote' helps align economic and voting power and ensures that no class of shareholders has more voting power than economic exposure.

For family firms, cross-shareholdings may be used to maintain effective voting control, for defensive purposes and to cultivate business relationships.Cross-shareholdings are rare in the Taiwan markets, with only 7% of the companies being flagged for this.

Taiwan: Truku indigenous people won lawsuit against 20-year extension of mining rights in Sincheng Township

In July 2019, the Taipei High Administrative Court ruled in favor of the Truku people, Indigenous residents who protested the 20-year renewal of permits for Asia Cement Corporation's (Asia Cement's) Xinchengshan mine operations near a Truku community in Hualien County. The court revoked the extension granted by the Ministry of Economic Affairs (MOEA) in December 2016. The court ruled the extension violated the Indigenous Peoples Basic Law, stating that the company did not conduct proper consultation with the local community and did not obtain approval for extending the mining operation. However, Asia Cement appealed the court decision and continued to operate a cement quarry.

Since April 2017, there have been a number of protests held by the Truku tribe, indigenous rights groups, and the public after the Taiwanese government allegedly expedited the approval of another 20-year extension to the mining rights of Asia Cement in March 2017 without requiring an Environment Impact Assessment (EIA). In June 2017, around 2500 people staged protests against the company demanding the closure of the mine, a reform in the mining industry, and social justice for the indigenous people. Subsequently, environmental groups filed an administrative lawsuit against the MOEA in October 2017 for approving the extension of Asia Cement's mining rights. In addition, demonstrators held a week-long blockage at the company's mine in November 2017, seeking for the restoration of land rights to the Truku people. In June 2018, demonstrators protested outside of the location of the company's annual shareholder meeting.

The demonstrations against Asia Cement and the Taiwanese government were primarily because of the alleged exclusion of the indigenous people in decision-making regarding the use of indigenous land. Before granting the 20-year extension to Asia Cement, the government allegedly failed to consult and obtain consent from the Truku community. This action was in direct violation of Article 21 of the Indigenous Peoples Basic Law. In light of these disputes, the company decided to have a dialogue with the government and indigenous tribes in February 2018. The third dialogue was held in December 2018 between the three groups, and Asia Cement indicated that it planned to apply for a 40% reduction of the mining area within two months.

Since 1973, Asia Cement has been undertaking mining activities in Sincheng Township, Hualien, Taiwan. This area is home to the indigenous Truku tribe, which had been granted usage rights by the government. This area also overlapped with the Taroko National Park which was established in 1986. Asia Cement has faced disputes over land use and environmental degradation over the years. Suspicions were raised that the signatures of the ownership documents that the company possessed were allegedly forged. In March 2018, Control Yuan, the investigatory agency of the government, expressed its intention to investigate these allegations.

In June 2020, Asia Cement issued a press release announcing the launch of a consultation process with the local indigenous communities to obtain their consent in relation to the company's mining rights in accordance with the Indigenous Peoples Basic Law.

In January 2021, Asia Cement filed an application for consultation and consent meeting with the local aborigines at the Xiulin Township Office. In April 2021, the company held a consultation and consent briefing wherein the tribal committee presented 30 requests that served as prerequisites for its voting approval. Some of the requests included compensation fees, relocation assistance to residents near the mine and employment opportunities.

In September 2021, the Taiwanese Supreme Administrative Court ruled in favor of the indigenous communities. The court rejected the extension of the 20-year mining concession stating that the company had violated Indigenous Peoples Basic Law by failing to consult the indigenous residents in Sincheng.

In February 2022, 294 (of 374) households voted in favor of extending the company's mining rights. The vote results allowed the company to file a new application for the extension of mining rights. However, those who opposed the mining rights stated that they would continue to fight against the company's marble mining.

In May 2024, Liberty Times Net reported that the Aboriginal People's Affairs Committee had announced a plan to return ownership of the 448 hectares of state-owned indigenous reserve land in the Xinchengshan mine. The restoration process is expected to begin in May 2025, and to be completed within two years. During this process, tribespeople are expected to receive formal land ownership certificates.

TAIWAN

CURRENCY: TAIWAN NEW DOLLAR (TWD)

The main regulatory and legislative framework for corporate governance in Taiwan is the Company Act, Securities and Exchange Act and the TWSE/TPEx listing rules for relevant companies. There is the Taiwan Corporate Governance for Best Practice Principles, which follows a “comply or explain” approach and and the Corporate Governance 3.0: Sustainable Development Roadmap.

There are two types of corporate structures available for public companies in Taiwan: (i) a supervisory system consisting of annual general meeting (AGM), board of directors and a supervisor and (ii) an audit committee system consisting of AGM, board of directors and audit committee. Most companies in Taiwan adopt the two-tier board structure of a supervisory board and a management board (acting as the board of directors).

The board of directors must have at least five members. The number of independent directors must be at least two and no less than one-fifth of the total number of directors. Independent directors cannot concurrently serve as directors in more than five TWSE/TPEx listed companies. The audit committee must consist of at least three members and comprise entirely independent directors. The listing rules require establishing pay and nomination committees and internal risk management mechanisms. There are no board gender diversity requirements.

Related party transactions (RPTs) that reaches 10% or more of the company’s total assets must obtain an appraisal report from a professional appraiser or the opinion of a certified public accountant. The law and regulations governing procedure for board directors’ meetings of public companies stipulate that interested directors must disclose their interest to the board and must abstain from voting on the issue of the matter.

Company law states that pay of directors and supervisors is determined by the annual general meeting. The Taiwan Corporate Governance Best Practice Principles for public companies requires companies to disclose the directors’ pay as well as the pay of supervisors, general managers, and vice general managers for the most recent fiscal year.

Controlled and principal ownership dominates in Taiwan, and families are the most common owner type.

Cross-shareholdings are a common control-maintaining mechanism used by Taiwanese companies. Multiple share classes with unequal voting rights are not permitted, but foreign ownership limits are present in strategic sectors such as telecommunications, shipping and aviation.

The Companies Act provides shareholders with the right to vote, elect and discharge directors and supervisors, determine the pay of directors and supervisors, amending the articles of incorporation, and approving certain transactions. Companies in Taiwan do not generally hold annual elections, since directors are typically elected for a three-year term. Shareholders with at least 1% of outstanding shares can propose agenda items to the annual general meeting. Shareholders owning 3% of the shares can request in writing for the supervisor to initiate an action against a director on behalf of the company.

A mandatory takeover bid is triggered if a bidder intends to purchase 20% or more shares within a period of 50 days.

Public companies must provide their disclosure information subject to both the Company Act and the Securities and Exchange Act. Companies are further required to appoint external auditors. External auditors are subject to a mandatory five-year rotation.

GLOSSARY

MSCI ESG RATINGS AND SCORES

FINAL ESG RATING

- Letter ratings are relative within each MSCI ESG Ratings industry. Each Final Industry-Adjusted Company Score is converted to an equivalent rating on the AAA-CCC scale.

ESG PILLARS

- the Environment Score represents the weighted average of all Key Issues that fall under the Environment Pillar
- the Social Score represents the weighted average of all Key Issues that fall under the Social Pillar
- the Governance Score represents the sum of score deductions derived from Key Metrics included in Corporate Governance (including Board, Pay, Ownership & Control, and Accounting) and Corporate Behavior (including Business Ethics and Tax Transparency)

- the Environment Weight represents the sum of the weights of all Key Issues that fall under the Environment Pillar
- the Social Weight represents the sum of the weights of all Key Issues that fall under the Social Pillar
- the Governance Weight represents the sum of the weights of Corporate Governance and Corporate Behavior, with a minimum weight set at 33% for all rated issuers

KEY ISSUES

For each industry and Company-Specific Key Issue that contributes to the final rating:

- Weight contribution to the final rating
- Exposure Score (available for companies published since June 2011; excluding Raw Material Sourcing – Environmental)
- Management Score (available for companies published since June 2011; excluding Raw Material Sourcing – Environmental)
- Overall Key Issue Score

WEIGHTED-AVERAGE KEY ISSUE SCORE VS. INDUSTRY RELATIVE SCORE

- the Weighted-Average Key Issue Score is dynamic, reflecting changes in any underlying scores as of the Last Update date, while the Industry Relative Score is more static and corresponds to the Rating Date. Issues that we determine do not present material risks or opportunities to companies in a given industry receive 0% weight and do not impact the overall ESG rating.

SCORES AND CALCULATION OF AVERAGE, PERCENTILE AND RATING DISTRIBUTION

All averages, percentiles, and rating distributions found in the report are based on companies in the relevant MSCI ESG Ratings Industry that are constituents of the MSCI ACWI and are calculated based on industry scores as of the date of publication of this report.

ESTIMATED CARBON EMISSIONS

Carbon estimates are based on carbon intensity (carbon emissions/sales). The Estimate Key represents the source of the estimated carbon emissions data. E.CSI represents Company-Specific Intensity estimates based on previously disclosed data. E.GICSSI represents estimates based on the GICS Sub-Industry average. For E.GICSSI we set five levels of confidence (High, Moderately High, Moderate, Moderately Low, and Low). The Carbon Estimation Methodology document, available on ESG Manager, describes the estimation model in greater detail.

GOVERNMENT SUPPORT RATING

We calculate the 'government support rating' for Supranationals and Development Banks based on the weighted average of member countries' Governance scores using the MSCI ESG Government Ratings methodology. These scores are based on measures of political governance (strength of institutions, corruption control, civil liberties, and human rights) and financial accountability.

NONE OF THE INFORMATION PROVIDERS MAKES ANY EXPRESS OR IMPLIED WARRANTIES OR REPRESENTATIONS WITH RESPECT TO THE INFORMATION (OR THE RESULTS TO BE OBTAINED BY THE USE THEREOF), AND TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, EACH INFORMATION PROVIDER EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS ALL IMPLIED WARRANTIES (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ANY IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF ORIGINALITY, ACCURACY, TIMELINESS, NON-INFRINGEMENT, COMPLETENESS, MERCHANTABILITY AND FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE) WITH RESPECT TO ANY OF THE INFORMATION.

- Information containing any historical information, data or analysis should not be taken as an indication or guarantee of any future performance, analysis, forecast or prediction. Past performance does not guarantee future results.
- The Information should not be relied on and is not a substitute for the skill, judgment and experience of the user, its management, employees, advisors and/or clients when making investment and other business decisions. All Information is impersonal and not tailored to the needs of any person, entity or group of persons.
- None of the Information constitutes an offer to sell (or a solicitation of an offer to buy), any security, financial product or other investment vehicle or any trading strategy.
- It is not possible to invest directly in an index. Exposure to an asset class or trading strategy or other category represented by an index is only available through third party investable instruments (if any) based on that index. MSCI does not issue, sponsor, endorse, market, offer, review or otherwise express any opinion regarding any fund, ETF, derivative or other security, investment, financial product or trading strategy that is based on, linked to or seeks to provide an investment return related to the performance of any MSCI index (collectively, "Index Linked Investments"). MSCI makes no assurance that any Index Linked Investments will accurately track index performance or provide positive investment returns. MSCI Inc. is not an investment adviser or fiduciary and MSCI makes no representation regarding the advisability of investing in any Index Linked Investments.
- Index returns do not represent the results of actual trading of investible assets/securities. MSCI maintains and calculates indexes, but does not manage actual assets. The calculation of indexes and index returns may deviate from the stated methodology. Index returns do not reflect payment of any sales charges or fees an investor may pay to purchase the securities underlying the index or Index Linked Investments. The imposition of these fees and charges would cause the performance of an Index Linked Investment to be different than the MSCI index performance.
- The Information may contain back tested data. Back-tested performance is not actual performance, but is hypothetical. There are frequently material differences between back tested performance results and actual results subsequently achieved by any investment strategy.
- Constituents of MSCI equity indexes are listed companies, which are included in or excluded from the indexes according to the application of the relevant index methodologies. Accordingly, constituents in MSCI equity indexes may include MSCI Inc., clients of MSCI or suppliers to MSCI. Inclusion of a security within an MSCI index is not a recommendation by MSCI to buy, sell, or hold such security, nor is it considered to be investment advice.
- Data and information produced by various affiliates of MSCI Inc., including MSCI ESG Research LLC and Barra LLC, may be used in calculating certain MSCI indexes. More information can be found in the relevant index methodologies on www.msci.com.
- MSCI receives compensation in connection with licensing its indexes to third parties. MSCI Inc.'s revenue includes fees based on assets in Index Linked Investments. Information can be found in MSCI Inc.'s company filings on the Investor Relations section of msci.com.
